

B. ABSTRACT

The subject invention comprises a process and means for an integrated and standardized verification rating of individuals seeking credit or access, or for sending a digital signature for access purposes including means comprising of a scaled rating for an individual's identity, along with potential other individual attributes that will be rated in order to apprise a merchant or other entity of the authenticity of the individual seeking credit or permit access to an entity or sending a digital signature.